Letter from Bishop Richard

A Christian poet once wrote, "History repeats itself; it has to, no-one listens!" These are words we do well to remember in our current political climate, especially as we remember the 100th anniversary of the end of WWI this month. Looking back on the political context that led to war it is striking how much our culture has changed. A lot of the warlike rhetoric and posturing; the appeal to patriotism; and the sense of our individual identities being tied up with national ones seems strange and dated. At the time, these attitudes combined with the arrogance of empire were a toxic combination that led to the horrific conflict with the loss of so many lives. However, elements of these attitudes remain. We always have a preference for our own tribe. In the current brexit debate there are rational arguments on both sides, but the xenophobia that has been unearthed is deeply troubling.

Christians are instructed to pray for our political leaders and to live in peace where we can, but one of the things that got the early Christians into trouble was their political subversion. Christian religious practices declared that Caesar wasn't Lord; Jesus was. That sort of talk could (and did) get you killed. The personal security that sustained this was a conviction that they were first and foremost citizens of heaven. In Jesus they had experienced the power of the other country break into their experience. For Christians, unlike our wider culture, this hasn't changed.

With best wishes

Wills & Inheritance Tax Planning Event

On Thursday 15th November from 6-8pm, Chailey Heritage Foundation will be hosting a free Wills & Inheritance Tax Planning event in partnership with Adams & Remers. The evening, which will be hosted at Chailey Heritage Foundation, will include:

- Welcome drinks and networking
- A presentation from Rose Macfarlane, associate at Adams & Remers, Lewes. Rose will explain how to make the most of your assets, minimise the impact of inheritance tax and help you consider how to properly structure your Will.
- Information about remembering Chailey Heritage Foundation in your Will. Leaving a legacy is a lasting way to ensure that we can continue to support young people with complex disabilities and health needs in the future. We hope you will be interested in finding out more about this way of giving.

This event is free to attend, but numbers are limited, so those wishing to attend are asked to book in advance at www.chf.org.uk/inheritance-event For further information, contact Jenna Durdle on 01825 724752 or email fundraising@chf.org.uk

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday 6th November at 7.45 pm in the Village Hall when Mr. Steve Alton will talk about Ashdown Forest Conservation. With the Forest and our Chailey Commons looking so beautiful at this time of year his talk will be of special interest.

In October we were pleased to have an excellent attendance for our Annual Meeting. Mrs Carol Brown was re-elected as our President with Mrs Laurie Fisher as Secretary and Mrs Rosemary Upsdell as Treasurer.

Now, who knows what 13th November is? Full marks to those who answered World Kindness Day. Chailey WI is entering into the spirit of this by cleaning the Village Hall so it is in tip-top condition for when the Bonfire Society once again provide a delicious Christmas Lunch for the senior members of the village. It will be rubber gloves and aprons at the ready on 23rd November when we will clean all the cupboards, plates, cutlery etc. before making an inventory of what what is there.

Our Craft Group has been busy for the past few weeks and if you go into St Peter's Church on 11th November for the Remembrance Day Service you will see the Poppy Wreath we have been making.

We are always glad to welcome prospective members and guests to our meetings on the first Tuesday of each month and the nominal charge of £3 includes home made refreshments.

Chailey & Newick Painting Group

Art exhibition, Saturday/Sunday, November 17th/18th, 10 - 5, Chailey village hall.

We very much look forward to welcoming you to our annual display of new work from our 40 members. As usual, we will have a wonderful array of framed paintings, unframed work, greetings cards and artists demonstrating their skills, as well as hot drinks and our gorgeous home-made cakes to take the chill off a winter's day.

Visitors are always invited to vote for their favourite painting and this often elicits the question, "What does the winner receive?". Until now it has simply been the pleasure of winning and the chance of being featured in a national art magazine. This year, however, to commemorate a long-standing and much valued past member, so suddenly and sadly lost earlier this year, we have commissioned a beautiful, rainbow-coloured piece of glass, to be known as The Graham Barber Memorial Trophy, which will be awarded annually to the winner of the favourite painting vote. There will also be small display of Graham's paintings, kindly loaned to the exhibition by the Barber family.

We will again be raising funds for St Peter & St James Hospice with a tombola in which every ticket drawn wins an original piece of art by one of our members. This year, the artwork will be in the form of a greetings card, complete with envelope.

Admission is free, there is disabled access and plenty of easy parking and, as ever, a very warm welcome to all.

With grateful thanks to Chailey Parish Council for their invaluable community support.

A Third Successful Day

Chailey Repair Café opened its doors for the third time at Chailey Parish Hall on Saturday 13th October, when visitors included local MP Maria Caulfield. There are now 28 volunteers signed up to tackle the local community's repairs, which have included everything from a garden parasol to an antique evening handbag. Cycle repairs are a speciality, as are electrical appliances such as mixers, hoovers, blenders, radio and record players. Founder and Coordinator Bryan McAlley commented "our part of East Sussex must have some serious toast eaters, judging by the number of broken toasters we are repairing!"

Chailey Repair Café is part of a world-wide movement where volunteer experts repair things. There is no charge, although we do ask for a donation towards our running costs. Anyone can bring along broken items or clothing needing repair from home, and have a cuppa and some of the best cake in Sussex while they wait!

Please note that Chailey Repair Café next opens at Chailey Parish Hall on Saturday 24th November at the later time of 2-5pm, due to the hall being in use that morning – we're back to 10am-1pm on December 15th!

Volunteers welcome !! Can you offer electrical, bicycle, furniture or any handiwork or craft repair skills? If you would like to help or find out more email Bryan McAlley at brymac@btinternet.com Find Chailey Repair Café on Facebook.

Chailey Commons Society

We have enjoyed the autumn, and I have been reminded of the John Keats poem entitled 'Ode to Autumn' which has the opening line "Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness". On my walks around the fields and woods and across the commons I have seen so much wild fruit, with the Hawthorn, Holly, Crab apple, Blackberry and Sloe bushes all providing a bounty for the wild birds and for those of us who love to collect the fruits too. Even the Black Bryony (poisonous) seems to have excelled itself this year with garlands of red berries hanging in the hedgerows.

Our indoor meeting season started with a talk by Peter Lovett on spiders and their habits and lives which was fascinating. Animation and wonderful close shots enhanced the detail for us – very interesting.

When it comes to a late summer stroll on the common, all you need is a lovely autumn day with sunshine and dry paths. Not so for us this time as the rains came and I went along not expecting anyone to turn up. My efforts were rewarded as five keen members appeared and, armed with umbrellas and boots, we went on a short walk to see what Memorial Common looked like in the rain. A lovely show of Fly Agaric fungi was found under the trees and the heather still looked good, even if rather wet. As a reward to ourselves after the walk, we went along to the tea room at Townings Farm where tea and cakes were served and just what was needed.

Our next indoor meeting will be on Thursday November 8th in Chailey Village Hall at 7.30.p.m. when there will be an illustrated talk by Clive Chatters who helped set up the New Forest National park, is an officer of the Hampshire Wildlife Trust and has written several books including 'Flowers of the Forest'. I am sure this will be of a wide interest to us and friends and family and non-members are welcome to come along.

From the Parish Newsletter 1918

Influenza

The epidemic of influenza which is so prevalent just now has brought much suffering and distress to our parish. I trust the measures which I have adopted for supplying nourishment to the invalids may tend towards their recovery. Our very grateful thanks are due to the kind friends who came forward so promptly and generously with the necessary financial support as well as to Miss Crosly and Mrs Applegate of Roeheath who have worked untiringly at the children's kitchen in making the nourishment which is so greatly needed just now.

Note: Children and young adults were particularly affected, and the onset was devastatingly quick. Those fine and healthy at breakfast could be dead by tea time. The virus killed more than 50 million people world wide, three times the number that fell in the Great War and did this so much faster than any other illness in recorded history.

Annette Shelford

WEEKLY PLANNING APPLICATIONS LISTS

the applications in the entire District. Of course, as your Chailey representative, I try to keep abreast of the residents views and comments for our own village, but it's important to be informed of the entire District.

Currently, all councillors automatically receive the weekly Lewes District Council list and this, I believe, is important so all of us are informed of all

I, along with a number of councillors have objected to an administrative decision to stop sending the weekly list to elected councillors and have insisted it be reinstated. We councillors are elected to represent our communities and need to be kept in the picture without trawling through the labyrinth of web sites.

FLY TIPPING AND LITTER BINS

Garden waste on Chailey Common is considered as fly-tipping and working with Countryside Management and Lewes District Council, I have requested signage is erected in the appropriate places to deter further problems.

With thanks to a local South Chailey resident as far as reporting the impractical position of the litter bins by the lay-by. I have asked for this to be improved and have assurance that the refuse department have it in hand. Thanks again for informing me.

RIGHTS OF WAY

Thank you again to residents who enjoy walking and dog walking in and around our village. A number have kindly contacted me reporting some problems as far as some locked gates, electric lines, damaged styles and some overgrown areas on rights of way. All of this I have reported to Rights of Way and Countryside Management and asked them to investigate.

CHAILEY BONFIRE NIGHT 10th NOVEMBER

We continue to enjoy our Bonfire Night and brilliant firework display – all thanks to a small number of Chailey residents who give their time so freely and generously. As ever, I would ask that all of us who can afford it, give something to pay for the fireworks – it all helps.

Chailey Allotment Association...

‘Tales from Plot Six’

When I was a little girl, one of my favourite activities was helping my grandparents in their Greenhouse and garden. Looking back to those times, I suspect it was then when the first seeds of what has since become my love of gardening, were first sown. My husband caught his gardening bug a few years ago, which in turn reignited mine. Following a revamp of our somewhat modest garden, we found ourselves wondering what we could do next other than move to a house with a bigger garden, and that was when we first heard that Plot Six was up for grabs at the Allotments.

It was very exciting to be shown around the Allotments for the first time. There are 20 plots, each sized at approximately 25 meters by 10 and all in various stages of cultivation. It was great getting to see how different people laid out their plots, and the jobs they had in process. One plot had me in opened mouth awe as we passed by. There were row upon row of neat vegetables growing in perfect batches of excellence, no weeds to be seen, and the pathing was practically perfect in every way. This I mentally dubbed 'The Good Life Plot'. Definitely one to aspire to! Meandering our way downward toward the centre of the site, I was secretly hoping that we would be inheriting a well cultivated area ready to plant into. In my reverie imagining my dream cut flower Rose Garden and herbal tea patch, our guide stopped outside the prospective plot. It was, naturally, a total jungle wilderness. There were rabbit droppings all over it, and waist high weeds of multiple varieties. The fence was helpfully just low enough to render it good perfect as the ultimate bunny high jump. There had been NO 'Good Life' activity here recently! Apparently the previous tenant had kept poultry on it, and so there was the remnants of a hideous tumble down chicken coup shack at the top, and a shed which had seen better days. The whole plot had bits of wire and rusty corrugated iron interspersed and dotted around it too. A child's swing hung sadly and forlorn from a rusting frame.

Our first thoughts were of utter dismay, but despite all of this, we were still determined to try and grow something, but both knew we would need to give it some major thought. Following a few days of pondering and questioning the sanity of tackling such a plot, the matter was decided. After all, who knew when another chance to have an allotment would arise? So tentatively we bit the bullet. The Plot had been lost (possibly in more ways than one) and we the questionably sane would take it back!

More 'Tales From Plot Six' next time...

Autumn Musings: Remember that the beauty of growing your own is that you don't have to have an allotment to do it. A pot, a windowsill, some earth, sunshine and water is all you need to get your seeds to grow. I would encourage each and every one of you reading this article to give it a try. Our Allotment Association gives produce to the Lewes Food Bank who help families across the district. If you are interested in joining us, please contact Chailey Parish Council for more information. Happy Growing!

Outstanding Student Progress 2018

This week the DfE published the progress data for secondary schools in England. We are delighted that Chailey School was one of four East Sussex Secondary Schools to have a 'significantly positive' progress score. Our score of 0.57 means that the students that studied here achieved on average between 0.5 and 1 GCSE grade better than at an average school. Our score also places as the second most successful secondary school in East Sussex. All of this has been possible because of great culture and work ethic of the students and the hard work and support of staff and families. For information the progress measure is based on the progress a student makes from KS2 SATs to GCSE performance.

Mrs Key, Head Teacher, stated 'I am absolutely delighted that the hard work of the students, staff and Chailey community have resulted in such great exam results.'

Chailey Horticultural Society

We have enjoyed a long warm and sunny Autumn which has kept crops growing longer than normal. However winter will soon be with us and it is a good idea to clear the vegetable patch as much as possible and prepare it for the Spring. I tend to use a 'no dig' method, just using a hand fork to turn the soil and break it up. In areas which are to grow potatoes, tomatoes, marrows, courgettes, sweet corn and brassicas cover with a good layer of farmyard manure followed by garden compost. For salad crops, spinach, legumes and onions just add plenty of garden compost. For root crops such as beetroot and carrots just ensure the soil is stone free and of a fine texture- if necessary add horticultural sand. Onions, tomatoes and brassicas benefit from added lime but not potatoes as it may encourage scab. Some people cover the bare earth with polythene or plant a green manure to be dug in in the spring. The choice is yours!

November is the month to plant tulips. Tulips originate in northern Iraq, Iran and southern Russia in well drained stoney soil in mountainous areas. They can therefore tolerate cold but not water logging. Also they tend not to do so well in second and subsequent years so planting in containers is a good option. If planting outside ensure an area of good drainage and add grit if necessary. Plant at 6" to 8" depth.

Now is the time to plant sweet peas for next summers show! Plant in root trainers and keep in a cold frame or unseated greenhouse over the winter. For dahlias wait for the first frost to blacken the foliage the lift the tubers and overwinter in a frost free place.

Lift main crop beetroot and carrots and store in dry sand. Eskimo is a main crop carrot that is cold tolerant and thus can be left in the ground and save a lot of trouble!

Soft fruit bushes and fruiting canes are planted this month and bare rooted fruit trees in December.

Still lots to do!

Good Gardening

The Art Society, Uckfield, Lewes & Newick.

The Turner Prize, Lecturer: Liz Strang - November 14th 2.30 Uckfield Civic Centre

The Turner Prize has always been controversial. It was awarded first in 1984 to the photo realist Malcolm Morley, and subsequently to such artists as Damien Hirst and Grayson Perry. Is the Turner prize a chance for new artists to be recognised or is it just the chance for yet another media romp, an annual farce as inevitable as the Christmas Panto? This year Forensic Architecture, an exploration into human rights violations has been short listed, but is that art?

Liz Strang will endeavour to explain this to us. Liz is an extremely experienced lecturer and has worked at both Tate Modern and Tate Britain covering all aspects of art. She has also lectured on cruises with P & O and Swan Hellenic specialising in 20th Century Art.

The cost is £7 on the door for non-members and if you need any further information please contact our Membership Secretary Ann McNorvell 01825 721458 or newickdfas2017@gmail.com. We look forward to welcoming you.
